

Chester Quarter Supports Young People's Immigration Concern

On April 26, Friends at Chester Quarterly Meeting supported our young people in their Concern about immigration that was presented in January. Friends felt that there should be some ways to bring attention to the importance of protecting the rights of migrants and immigrants, even in this time of social distancing. Some people suggested Twitter. One person suggested that we do a video with music, etc. The clerk of Quarterly Meeting suggested that the Quarter send a Minute of Concern to the Yearly Meeting in support of our young people's Concern.

The Providence Meeting First Day School group will work on finding new ways to raise this Concern in visibility. There will be an opportunity to get on the agenda for the next Quarterly Meeting if support is requested for concrete ideas.
